Section 1: Copyright Declaration

I/We, the undersigned author(s), hereby declare that:

1. The submitted work (abstract, full paper, PowerPoint presentation, and/or podcast summary) is an original contribution and has not been published or submitted elsewhere in the same or substantially similar form.
2. I/We affirm that the work does not infringe upon any existing copyright, patent, trademark, or proprietary right of any individual or organization.
3. I/We retain the full copyright ownership of the submitted work.
4. By submitting this work to the International River Summit 2025 and the WCPI Knowledge Library, I/We grant WCPI and IRBF a non-exclusive, perpetual, and royalty-free license to:
 - Publish, store, and distribute the work (in whole or part) in printed, electronic, or digital formats for educational, research, and dissemination purposes.
 - Convert the submitted work into podcast, audio, or video formats for educational sharing through WCPI platforms, digital repositories, or partner institutions.
 - Include the work in conference proceedings, digital archives, or academic compilations with due credit to the author(s).
5. I/We understand that this license does not transfer copyright ownership to WCPI or IRBF and that I/We may republish the work elsewhere with proper acknowledgment of its presentation at the International River Summit 2025.

Section 2: Piracy and Ethics Declaration

I/We hereby certify that:

1. The work submitted is free from plagiarism or unauthorized use of materials, data, images, or text belonging to others.
2. Any and all sources used have been duly cited and acknowledged in accordance with academic and ethical standards.
3. No part of the submitted work, including figures, tables, or datasets, violates copyright or data protection laws.
4. The submission has been reviewed by all listed co-authors, and all have given their consent for submission and publication.
5. I/We understand that any breach of these declarations may result in withdrawal of the work, retraction from proceedings, and notification to the author's affiliated institution.
